We are delighted to bring to you this very exciting newsletter announcing our finalists for this year's Scottish Cyber Awards. The judging panel met in September and took on the mammoth task of assessing all applications for each award. “ Now in it's 7th year, the Scottish Cyber Awards are once again proving what a diverse array of talent and innovation Scotland has to offer in the cyber world. What stood out this year in particular was the collaborative approach that was evidenced in so many of the applications.
